THE VALUES OF NOYA

EXOTIC

PURE

FAIR TRADE & GLOBAL SUSTAINABILITY

We care about the environment

SUSTAINABLE MANUFACTURING

All our products are pure natural and authentic. Our collection refers to the origin of the raw materials used. We aim to reduce our environmental impact across the whole product life cycle, from materials sourcing, through manufacturing and logistics. We create viable working conditions in Third World countries by employing local craftsmen. We generate cultural change and turn waste into eco-friendly products.

OPTIMIZATION OF PRODUCTION PROCESSES AND TECHNIQUES

Optimised production methods and operations by continuously improving performance. We carefully control the production quality and try to eliminate unnecessary production steps.

PRODUCING LESS POLLUTION, EMISSION AND WASTE

The materials we use for our products were initially discarded as waste. By turning waste into useful and beautiful products, NOYA wants to make a small but significant difference to counter pollution.

CARING FOR CLIMATE CHANGE

Reducing climate impact is an important part of our environmental work, and we are focusing our efforts on lowering the energy use in our production as well as making our products as energy effective as possible.

OUR COLLECTION

COCONUT BOWLS

Millions of coconuts are turned into waste after harvesting the flesh, oil and water. They are then burned at large combustion sites, which creates huge CO₂ emissions and the release of methane gases that are extremely harmful to the environment. The burning of coconut shells creates a worldwide waste of natural resources.

NOYA found a way to recycle those coconut shells by turning them into beautiful and useful objects to serve food, store jewels or simply as decoration. We use real coconut shells, which is why each bowl is unique in its shape and size.
